IMMIGRANT VISA MEDICAL EXAMINATION

All immigrant visa applicants must pass a medical examination before visas can be issued to them. The examination must be performed by a physician designated by the Embassy.

The procedure consists of a physical examination (all applicants), chest x-ray (applicants 15 or older) and vaccines (if necessary). "An HIV test is not required as part of the immigrant visa medical examination. However, applicants have the option to request one". Do not bring the x-ray to your visa interview. Keep it as part of your permanent medical file. If you immigrate, pack the x-ray in your luggage.

You must present your appointment letter, your passport and a visa-style photograph of each applicant to the examining physician, radiologist and laboratory technician for identification purposes.

Please contact the physician below and phone ahead to schedule an appointment:
